

General Information

Site

The Summit at Haw River State Park 339 Conference Center Dr.,
Browns Summit, NC 27214
www.journeyconferences.com (click on The Summit) *

Located just 15 minutes north of Greensboro, and 25 minutes from Piedmont Triad International Airport, The Summit boasts a secluded, 210-acre campus with a six-acre lake and five miles of hiking trails.

Cost (Per person rates include meals) Beginning earlybird rates as low as:
$200 (commuter with meals) $470 (double occupancy/private bath)*; $255 (cabin*rates: 4 registering in a group)or $270 individual (in cabin registering without 3 others)

Registration & Additional Information

at www.journeyconferences.com about this conference and pre-conference events (click "Registration" from "Conference Information") A variety of Workshops and Special Events will be described there also.

No Internet Connection?
Contact Tom Lane at 336-545-1200
during normal business hours EST.
If no one answers when you call, please wait to reach voice mail and leave your name and phone number, speaking slowly and distinctly, so your call can be returned.

REGISTER EARLY TO ENSURE YOUR PARTICIPATION!

Journey Conferences – Seeds for Jubilee Foundation c/o Tom Lane, Registrar P.O. Box 38944, Greensboro, NC 27438-8944

A Journey Conference (www.journeyconferences.com)

at
The Summit
Browns Summit, NC

Moving toward Wholeness

aided by the Psychology of C. G. Jung and the spiritual experiences of Christianity and other faiths

HOLD THE DATE!

October 15-18, 2009

Conference Information

Date: October 15-18, 2009

Location: The Summit Conference Center, Browns Summit, NC near Greensboro

Featured Presenters & Presentations

Reverend J. Pittman McGehee, D.D.*
Formerly the Dean of Christ Church Cathedral in downtown Houston, Pittman is currently a Diplomate Jungian analyst in private practice and the Director of the Institute for the Advancement of Psychology and Spirituality. Pittman is widely known as a lecturer and educator in the field of psychology and religion, as well as an author and poet.

The Invisible Church

This lecture will analyze the psychological roots of fundamentalism, the church as archetypal mother and father, and seek to set out how religion can be a psychotherapeutic system for healing and wholeness.

Finding Spirituality Where You Are God is not a concept, but an experience.
Spirituality is the deep human longing to translate the Transcendent into the Immanent through experience and reflection on it. This lecture will help to see how we can find the miraculous in the mundane, the extraordinary in the ordinary, and the sacred camouflaged in the profane.

The Tribal Dream: How Dreams and Synchronicities Present Evidence of a Communal Unconscious

We are connected to one another and dream in more objective ways than traditional psychology has previously acknowledged. Objective dreams compensate or give factual data about waking reality, such as our choices, relationships and health. However, some dreams seem to be meant not just for the individual, or even primarily for the larger collective, but for the family, tribe or community audience. Such experiences of unconscious connection often happen when one opens to the possibility: then, Psyche speaks in a rare way, and one can be healed by listening. Humans are pack animals and the dream maker knows well this ancient rule of our tribal nature.
Within ones' own dream theatre, stories unfold using the characters from our lives that weave a pattern, each connected to the other in fascinating complexity. The tribal unconscious will be introduced with examples from dreams and synchronicities.

Tess Castleman,* is a Diplomate Jungian Analyst (Zurich, 1989), a training analyst with the C. G. Jung Institute of Zurich and a member of the Curatorium.
She is responsible for the International English Block Training in Zurich where she lives part of the year. She also lives in Dallas, Texas, where she has an analytic practice for adults and groups.
She is an author and also leads workshops and dream retreats internationally.

In the Symbol the World Itself is Speaking: Earth and Psyche in Balance

Jung used the term "the Self" to speak of the archetype of wholeness and the God image within. If the Self manifests to us in dreams as, among others things, numinous images and affects of the power of the great forces of nature, then Nature and the Holy are actually infused into each other. If, as Jung writes, the psyche is, at bottom, merged into the chemical substances, "then the psyche is simply 'world' ... and in the symbol the world itself is speaking." With this in mind, we can look at the imminent environmental crisis as being psychological in nature and a reflection of the problem of our relationship with the Holy. The Western origin myth may not be adequate to the task of approaching the crisis in a non-technological way as a dynamic of the Sacred. We will explore other, indigenous origin myths and the world of dreams and ritual to see if more ancient approaches and understandings can help us find our way back into a balance with Nature and the Self that exists in our depths

Barry Williams, M. Div., Psy.D.* is a Jungian Analyst in private practice near Taos, NM. Known internationally for his lectures, workshops, wilderness pursuits, work with indigenous cultures and dreamwork, he has served on the Adjunct Faculty at Pacifica Graduate Institute, has been a long-time presenter at Journey Into Wholeness, and, for over two decades, a leader of the Temagami Vision Quest in Canada. An important part of his own journey toward wholeness has been a twelve year initiation into the tradition of the Huichol people of Central Mexico.
Along with his family at their remote home in New Mexico, at sea in New Zealand and in a wilderness setting in Northern Canada, Barry offers retreats on dreams, shamanism, ritual and the great forces of nature.

---

HOLD THE DATE!
October (14) (two pre-conference events)
October 15-18, 2009

For detailed information and registration visit:

www.JourneyConferences.com